Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.— plomatic Headache is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout. Rheumatism and all febrile diseases. In its pervous form it is sympathetic of dis ease of the stomach constituting sich head ache, of hepatic disease constituting bilious headache of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine offections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches; Ansemia and plethora are also affections which frequently occasion headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and pros trating at once the mental and physical enrgies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acerbity of temper. In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralgia. For the treatment of either class of Headsche the Cephalic Pills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of
